

Ask for Flasher at Ida St. Crossing; OK Appointments

The Village Board approved the appointments by Mayor Cunningham of various village officials at Tuesday night's board meeting.

All votes were unanimous except the reappointment of Police Chief Walter Scott. Irving Walsh and Ray Toft voted against the appointment, the other four board members approving the appointment. Ray Toft later made a motion that Jack Heick be promoted to sergeant in the Police Department, and the motion was approved.

Other appointments were E. J. Story as Building Commissioner; Dr. A. N. Burke, Health Commissioner; Edwards C. Jacobs, village attorney; Edgar Simonsen, chief of Fire Department; Irving Walsh, Director of Public Grounds and Buildings; John Dupre, Civil Defense Director. All standing committees were re-appointed.

The Mayor announced that he had received a petition bearing 500 signatures, mostly employees of industries in Industrial Acres, requesting that a flasher signal be installed at the railroad crossing on Ida Avenue. Attorney Jacobs said that the cost of the flasher would have to be borne equally by the Soo Line and the village, at a probable cost of about $9,000. The board approved a motion to accept the petition, and place it on file.

Mr. Gefvert, of Gefco Corp. asked the approval of the village board on his request to utility companies to vacate an easement on Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4 in Block 2 in Sequoit Acres so that he might construct an addition. The board gave their approval.

Lyn-Jay Builders said they would agree to install sewer and water lines to conform to the village board request and allow users along the route to tap into the new line without reimbursing Lyn-Jay Builders for the expense of the line. Annexation of several homes on Route 83 south of the village is being considered. The board approved motions to give Lyn-Jay Builders permission to run a 12-inch sewer line on the west side of Route 83 to Winsor Terrace, and a six-inch water main on the east side of Rte. 83 to Winsor Terrace, both to be turned over to the village, after approval by the State. The new lines will service the Lyn-Jay Apartments at Routes 83 and 173.

John Dupre requested that a phone be installed in his Civil Defense office. The board approved a motion to remove the phone from the Scout House for Mr. Dupre's use, and voted to investigate the installing of an outside phone booth near the Scout House.

Dupre asked and received permission to become Township Civil Defense Director, upon completion of arrangements with the town board. The board also approved the appointment of Ray Toft, Dave Nissen and Irving Walsh as Civil Defense committee.

Dupre reported that plans are under way to bring the High School, the Ill. Bell building and the Fire Dept. up to specifications to serve as Defense shelters. He asked that the Mayor give an order of succession to the Mayor's office in the event of the Mayor being incapacitated in an emergency. Mayor Cunningham declined to name an order of succession.

The board approved a motion to construct a new sidewalk in front of the old Village Hall. A motion to repave Spafford St. was tabled pending an investigation of possible financing of the project.

A motion to start filling 800 feet of roadway on Depot St. east of the Soo Line tracks, and 300 feet on Anita St. south from Depot, with base gravel, to a depth of 12-18 inches, was approved.

The Board approved a motion to name August 22 Shrine Day in Antioch.

Tag Day for Allendale School for Boys and the Central Baptist Children's Home on October 2, 1964, was approved.

Approval was given setting Saturday, June 27, as VFW Buddy Poppy Day in Antioch.

Edgar Simonsen reported that Willowdale Dairy had paid their water bill in full. Negotiations with the dairy have gone on for several years.

Appropriations for the coming year were read and approved and will be published.

The Mayor announced that due to the illness of Clarence Shultis, village clerk, the police department will delay enforcement of the June 15 date for vehicle stickers.

The Antioch Fire Department was given permission to close off the north end of Broadway the night of their annual dance, June 27.

A plaque for the new village hall, designed by Dave Nissen, was approved.

Nothing Ever Happens In This Town?

After the performance of Mac Ryan's original musical, "Nothing Ever Happens in This Town," the author may sit down and write a sequel, "Everything Happens in This Town."

The tale of woe presented by a recital of the difficulties that have beset the rehearsing cast members disproves the play's title.

Two of the cast members were hospitalized, two stepped on nails, one left the cast two weeks before opening night because of his occupation, and several members went on vacations which left the show without a full cast at any time.

You might gather from this that the play would be a farce, but nothing, says Director Agnes Van Patten, could be further from the truth. The cast has responded in true show biz fashion, only spurred to greater efforts by the difficulties that have beset them.

"Nothing Ever Happens in This Town" is a delightful story of four stage-struck youngsters and how they contrive to get a chance on Broadway.

Tickets to the play can be reserved by calling Agnes Van Patten at 395-4444, or can be bought at the box office each night of the performance. The play will be presented at the PM&L Theater on Main St. in Antioch June 19 and 20 (Friday and Saturday) and on June 26. The theater opens at 7:30 p.m.

Soo Line Can't Halt Trains Yet

The Soo Line Railroad, which had hoped to discontinue its passenger service on trains between Chicago and Superior, Wis., and between Chicago and St. Paul, Minn., will have to continue to provide the service for at least four months while the Interstate Commerce Commission investigates its request and opposition expressed to it.

The move would have ended passenger train service to Antioch.

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce wrote to the Interstate Commerce Commission protesting the cessation of service to Antioch. Frederick Walpole, president of the Chamber, recently received a letter from the Interstate Commerce Commission notifying him that discontinuance of the service would be halted until a hearing could be held, at a time and place not yet set.

The Antioch Village Board, at its last meeting, decided not to file a protest with the Commission, some members expressing the opinion that it would be useless.

No Date Set For Start Of Plaza

No time has been set for breaking ground for the construction of the Route 83 and Grass Lake Road shopping plaza, according to George Mazzuca, one of the promoters of the project.

Leasing of space in the plaza was complicated by the long wait for zoning, delaying final plans. At present, the County Board has approved B-1 zoning for 20 acres, with restrictions prohibiting the building of a race track, an outdoor theater or body shop.

A combination shopping plaza and professional building, all under one roof, covering 160,000 square feet is planned at the present time, Nicholas J. Marchese, architect, has drawn plans of the proposed construction.

The new type of sewage disposal plant to be installed at the plaza has no counterpart in the U. S. There is one similar plant in Zurich, Switzerland.

Holbek Given Plaque At 25-Yr. Event

The 25th Anniversary celebration of the Antioch Rescue Squad last Saturday, June 12, went off smoothly, with a large crowd attending the dance Saturday night.

Dancers and watchers seemed to enjoy the convenience of tables set up on the street on Broadway. The music of King Jaro's orchestra kept the dance floor full through the evening hours.

During the evening, Sheriff Charles Larson presented a plaque to Herman Holbek in appreciation of his 25 years of service on the rescue squad.

Earlier in the day, more than 80 entries in the Bike and Buggy Decorating contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce paraded down Main St. All the children were given Dilly Bars purchased from the Dairy Queen after the parade. Moose clowns Ed Kurtz, Bob Avery, Paul Mallory, Dick Jorgensen and Wally Good took part in the parade and handed out the ice cream bars.

Prizes were given to winners in the contest in various categories. In buggies, Most Patriotic were a group with a replica of Cape Kennedy made up of Deborah, Karen, Skipper and Julie Albrecht and Kelly Hellwig and Tina Jarvis; second place, Cheryl Eyanoff and third place, Karen Schiesser.

Prettiest buggy, first, Mike and Mary Mattson, second Yvonne Eyanoff, third, Donna Haase.

Funniest buggy, first, John and Sheila Haley, Kelly Hassett, and a third place tie to the Cernak triplets and Pam, Kathy and Tommy Stroschein.

In the bicycles, Funniest was first Kip Meyer, second Cherry Morrison, third, Michael, Martin and Mitchell Witt.

Most patriotic was, first, Holly Markwart, second, Robert Miller, third, Mary Haley.

Prettiest was, first, Laurie, Teddy and Kathy Poulos, second Candy Meyer, third Teresa Stroschein.

Hurt In Collision

Mrs. Dale (Ann) Bartley, Channel Lake, was seriously injured in a head-on collision on Highway 14 near Darien, Wisconsin, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Bartley's car collided with one driven by a Waukegan man at about 4 p.m. Friday. Details of the accident were unavailable.

Mrs. Bartley received severe leg injuries, and injuries to her neck and face. She will be hospitalized for at least three months, according to members of her family.

The Waukegan family were hospitalized overnight with minor injuries. Both cars were demolished.

Mrs. Bartley was alone in her car. She had driven to Baraboo, Wis., where she and her husband recently purchased a bakery. They were preparing to move to Baraboo. She was returning to Channel Lake when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Bartley is in Lakeland Hospital in Elkhorst, Wis.

130 Accidents

The Lake County Sheriff's office recently compiled a record of the number of motor vehicle accidents on record at the sheriff's office in which the Antioch Rescue Squad assisted.

In 1964, up to March, the Rescue Squad assisted at 11 accidents in which 28 persons were injured. In 1963, at 37 accidents in which 56 persons were injured; in 1962, at 34 with 76 injured; in 1961, at 31 with 80 persons injured; in 1960, at 17 with 42 injured.

A breakdown by townships of the total calls from 1960 to March of 1964 shows Antioch Township accounted for 101 cases, with 200 persons injured; Newport Township 21 accidents with 64 injured; Lake Villa Township, 8 accidents with 18 injured.

AGS Band Plays For Governor

The 60 piece Antioch Grade School Band journeyed to Springfield on June 2nd and 3rd and played a concert for Governor Kerner.

The group also took a side trip to historic Salem Village. Mr. Richard Whitacre, Superintendent of the Antioch Grade Schools and the Antioch School Board felt that this was quite an honor for the Antioch band and also of educational value. Mr. Oliver Hunt, former president of the Antioch Grade School Band Parent Association was responsible for getting the Concert slated. Mrs. Mary Brusk, a P.E. teacher and band parent, handled all the arrangements.

Mr. George Olsar, the band director, has been with the band for ten years. Mr. Olsar is also conductor of the Johnson's Wax Band of Racine, Wisconsin, and has played 1st trumpet with the Waukegan Philharmonic for two years. He also was Solo Cornetist with the West Point Band and was a staff musician on WGN Radio and T.V. and has played with the Lyric Opera and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

The band was well received by the governor and other state officials. The group played a half hour concert for Governor Kerner and then played another 15 minutes after the governor had to leave.

After the concert the band visited the Lincoln Tomb and was treated to a smorgasbord dinner in Bloomington. The band was accompanied by 25 parents and the entire group returned to Antioch about 10:30 p.m. on Wednesday.

Every family should have three children. If one turns out to be a genius, the other two can support him.

Board Moves to Annex Channel Lake School

The Antioch and Channel Lake Grade School Boards met jointly Tuesday night, June 16, to consider possible annexation of the Channel Lake District to the Antioch Grade School District.

The meeting was an exploratory one, according to Richard Whitacre, Superintendent of the Antioch Grade School District.

At the conclusion of the joint meeting, the Antioch board resumed its regular meeting, which has been changed to the third Tuesday of the month.

A committee of Ronald Polson, Joan Toft, and Clarence Larson, along with Superintendent Richard Whitacre and Principal C. Houghton, was appointed to contact the Channel Lake School board and discuss the possibility of setting machinery in motion early in the 1964-65 school year for annexation before the 1965-66 school year started.

The Channel Lake board said they would make a study of the situation, and hold a public meeting to discuss the matter.

President of the board Elmer Eberhart said the Channel Lake board is seriously considering the annexation, and whatever they did would be in the best interests of the children. Annexation to Antioch, he said, would include several benefits to the children, including a broader curriculum. Channel Lake School, he said, would probably remain in operation as a K-5 school, housing kindergarten through the first five grades. This would eliminate transporting the young children to Antioch. However, such decisions, he pointed out, would be up to the Antioch school board if annexation were completed.

Channel Lake school district voters have twice rejected a 20c raise in the educational tax. The school board has issued tax anticipation warrants to take care of a deficit in the school's finances. If annexed to Antioch, Channel Lake residents will pay the tax rate of the Antioch Grade School district.

In other business, the Antioch Grade School board approved renewing the student insurance policy with Continental Casualty Co. of Chicago; employed Stephen O'Higgins, Antioch, as custodian and bus driver; approved the use of the Oakland Grade school gym on June 25 by the Crooked Lake Improvement Association for a potluck dinner; renewed the lease of a school-owned at 807 N. Main by Daniel McFaries; and set the tuition cost for out-of-district children at $500 yearly for grade school, $250 yearly for kindergarten pupils.

Make Plans For ACHS Golden Anniversary Year

1965 has been designated Golden Anniversary Year for Antioch Community High School. Although Antioch High School existed as an educational unit before 1915, it was in that year that the oldest part of the present school building was completed. Therefore, 1965 will mark 50 years of educational endeavor at the present site.

A group of alumni, under the general chairmanship of Fred Stahmer, Jr., is planning some activities to commemorate the anniversary. At a steering committee meeting in the school cafeteria on Wednesday, June 10, Mr. Stahmer outlined the following plans:

The committee will cooperate with the high school annual staff to publish an enlarged version of the 1964-65 SEQUOIA. The annual will include a special section on the history of the school and will be available for purchase by interested alumni. Mr. William Brook will serve as yearbook committee chairman; Mr. Larry Eggleston, of the high school faculty, will be adviser. Other committee members are Mrs. Glenna Roberts Simpson, Mrs. Diane Jaro Poulter, and Miss Pat Oilschlager. Representatives of Walsworth Publishing Co., which publishes the high school annual, were present at the meeting and discussed cost factors with the group.

Plans are being made to expand the traditional Homecoming festivities scheduled for the weekend of October 10, 1964. It is hoped that the parade will include a number of alumni floats. On Sunday, October 11 a program will be presented in the school auditorium and a reception for all alumni will take place immediately afterward. The following committees have been appointed to work with the Student Council committee on Homecoming plans:

Parade: Jack Fields, Robert Wilton, Jr., John Steitz, Jr., Warren Brownlee, Donald Cremin, Art Trieger, Robert Denman.

Dance: Elaine Christensen Gallagher, chairman, Mary Fields Haviland, Carol Cervenka.

Program: Cornelia Roberts, Dolly Radke, Phyllis McMillen, Karen Martin, Ken Smouse will act as adviser and the group will be assisted by the Palette, Masque and Lyre organization.

Reception: Helen Nelson, chairman, Louise Murrie, Margaret Harrison, Hilma Lightsey, Edith Elms.

Mrs. Lucille Kuechenmeister will handle publicity for the committees.

Several classes have indicated plans for reunions to be held during 1965. Efforts will be made to co-ordinate such reunions with possible activities scheduled for the close of the school year.

A letter outlining the year's plans will be mailed to all alumni. A member of each class has been contacted and asked to compile a list of names and addresses for his class. These lists will be in the hands of the committee by June 12th and a group, headed by Mrs. Edna Radke, will draft the letter to be mailed by the end of June.

Because of the sketchiness of school records for those years prior to about 1920 it has been very difficult to ascertain the membership of the earlier classes. At present Mrs. Mary McCann is helping to compile these lists. Any information regarding the names and addresses of the people in these early classes will be greatly appreciated. Persons with such information can contact Mrs. McCann or Mrs. Edna Radke at the high school.

The committee also needs any information it can get about the school's early history, faculty, and activities; old pictures and additional help for the various committees. Interested parties may contact Mr. Stahmer, Mrs. Radke or the committee chairmen.

Business As Usual

The kids turned out in force for the Bike & Buggy decorating contest and parade last Saturday. There were some beautifully decorated vehicles and some very imaginative, plus an appealing assortment of kids. Only very few people got to see them.

The parade was whisked down Main Street in one lane of traffic, while traffic flowed steadily in the other lane. A dangerous situation, and one that made it impossible for anyone on the east side of the street to get a good look at the parade.

It's too bad. The kids put in a lot of work on those bikes and buggies, and kids love a parade. There are very few people who would mind driving an extra block, or even waiting to watch the parade, rather than interfere with the children's moment of glory. Seems as though it would have been just good manners—the kind we're always complaining youngsters don't have nowadays—to stop everything for fifteen, twenty minutes, and give the kids the right of way.

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

If the checker at the supermarket hesitates to give you large quantities of coins in change, he is probably heeding a warning from the store manager. The shortage of pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars is so critically acute that store owners and banks have adopted a policy of "rationing" these precious mediums of exchange.

Actually, the acute shortage of small coins should not induce any hoarding of coins, as there is no intrinsic value which attaches to most coins in general circulation. However, coin collectors, or numismatists, have added to the present dilemma, particularly the coin merchants who deal in bags of coins with the prospect that some rare and valuable coins may turn up in the course of sorting out a large supply. But coin collectors are only a part of the cause of the current coin shortage problem. The general increase in population results in a substantially increased demand. In addition, the prevalence of retail sales taxes in most of the fifty states and the greatly expanded vending machine business cause further drains on the coin supply. Toll roads are an added factor, and, of course, the hoarders of coins (who regard coins as having value superior to paper money) are a recent serious contributing cause.

Despite the honor intended by replacing the Kennedy half dollar for the half dollar bearing the likeness of Benjamin Franklin, the minting of this new coin has resulted in some slowdown at the mint and a new wave of hoarding.

Although the Congress and the Administration have not adequately anticipated the greatly increased demand for coins, it is well to recognize that some significant steps have already been taken. The Bureau of the Budget received a professional report prepared by Arthur D. Little, Inc., of Cambridge, Massachusetts, in February 1963. This report established that the present increased demand for coins would occur, and recommended the expansion of Federal minting facilities by enlarging the mint at Philadelphia, as well as by the establishment of a new mint. The Congress has already authorized the sum of $30 million for new and expanded mint facilities, and final action by the Senate on an appropriation of $16.5 million is all that is holding up steps to replace the existing Philadelphia mint with a new structure capable of greatly expanded production.

However, a third mint (in addition to the Philadelphia and Denver mints) is urgently needed. Such a new and additional mint facility should be located in the Midwest, preferably in the vicinity of the Chicago metropolitan area. In line with this logic, I introduced some months ago a bill providing for the establishment of a new mint in Lake County (a part of the 12th Congressional District) and a revised bill to provide for such a mint in Lake or Cook County, U. S. Senator Paul H. Douglas has presented a similar bill to establish a mint in Illinois.

Along The Way with ANNIE MAE

Not only is June bustin' out all over, but have you had a look at those rose bushes in the neighbors' yard? I have to look at them in my neighbors' yard, because the rabbits had a family reunion dinner in my rose bed this spring.

THE LATEST REPORT: Speaking of family gatherings, Frank and Freja Moser are still walking around with red faces after showing up at Joe and Helen's for a graduation dinner honoring their son Frank, minus the guest of honor! . . . Gen Osmond found out that Wisconsin traffic patrolmen get up early in the morning, even on Sunday! . . . Ernie Westlund tells us that those Japanese visitors to the Rescue Squad, were perplexed to find anyone in such a capitalistic country doing something for nothing. . . . The industrial growth of our town seems to be in evidence everywhere with the additions to both Quaker Stretcher and Victory Carbide almost doubling the size of present buildings.

NOTES TO YOU: If you are wondering, as I did, just what that is at Big John's used car lot, it's a GAZERO. Hope it doesn't take you as long to find out what that is as it took me! . . . to the fellow who drives the yellow Oldsmobile, s a n's license plates, I know who you are and it won't take the P.D. long to find out either. . . . to Bill Musch: in case you rode that bicycle just to get your name in this here column, you made it! . . . Bob Lasco whose job it is to keep the stream of life flowing freely, had the unfortunate experience of being doused with the contents of a broken drainage pipe last Saturday. . . . Dave Nissen sports the first "Republican for Kerner" sign in this area. . . . we wonder if this organization will grow.

THE LAST DROP: Bill Brook winged out to California to spend the week-end with spouse Janet who is vacationing in the Sunshine state . . . and Joe Pat had everyone raising eyebrows, when he escorted niece Karen to the Rescue Squad dance last Saturday, for his wife Gloria, is also vacationing on the West Coast. . . . He swears it's the truth! Bill Morris claims he pulled a 42" Northern out of Antioch Lake the other nite. . . . C'mon Harry, baby, you better get back here, I'm not much good with these fishy stories.

DID YOU HEAR? the definition of a small town? A place where everybody knows whose check is good.

Checkmate, Annie Mae

P. S. The P. M. & L. will open this weekend with the original musical written by our own Mac Ryan entitled "Nothing Ever Happens in Our Town." Take your guests and show them how much talent this town really packs!

Bankers, merchants and business associations have rallied to the support of this legislation. A hearing before the House Public Works Committee on the bills which introduced will be scheduled early in July. At that time, it is expected that testimony will be offered establishing the availability of good transportation, skilled workers and suitable land, thus making a convincing case for an additional unit in this area.

However, an additional mint in Illinois, and even the new mint in Philadelphia, will have no immediate effect on the existing coin shortage. Emergency action is needed to alleviate this critical condition. While the Federal government cannot contract through private industry for the minting or stamping of coins, certain preliminary steps such as alloying, drawing and rolling of metal may be performed by private industry with the final stamping and subsequent steps handled by the mint.

At least one Illinois concern has decided to issue script, in place of coins, which would be redeemable in its stores for merchandise. The Treasury Department may frown on this substitute for legal tender, just as it did recently when a Wisconsin bank sought to alleviate the nickel shortage with "wooden nickels." Indeed the official printing of paper money in place of nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars is a possibility which may bear some earnest consideration. However, the most logical plan for the immediate future is to expand the five-day, two-shift operations which exist at the Philadelphia and Denver mints to seven-day, three-shift operations—until (hopefully) a new mint in Illinois becomes a reality.

At this time of the year slow-moving farm equipment frequently is on the highway. This is one more reason for reducing your driving speed on hills and curves. The safe driver always anticipates what may be up ahead and reduces his speed accordingly.

Nothing makes a seat belt believer faster than being in an accident without one (providing you survive, that is). Medical authorities state flatly that better than one-third of fatal injuries would be avoided if the victims had been wearing belts.

One group of drivers who always fastens their belts before driving anywhere are the test engineers in charge of safety tests for the major car makers. Watching the results of a crackup against a concrete barrier at 30 mph with dummies in the cars is apparently quite a convincer for anyone inclined to consider a belt too much trouble.

New cars come pre-punched for seat installation now and the job of fitting your car with belts to match the upholstery is a fast and simple one.

It is important to wear seat belts on shopping trips and other short drives, as well as longer trips. Three out of four traffic fatalities occur within 25 miles of home and more than one-half of all injury-producing accidents take place in urban areas.

The Progress of Seat Belts

If you are considering buying a new 1964 car you would be well advised to spend the few extra dollars required for a quality seat belt.

Belts are growing rapidly in popularity and are now installed in 69% of all cars on the road, though a good percentage of drivers fail to use them consistently.

Engaged couples of the area are invited to attend a marriage preparation course of four sessions to be held at St. Mary's Parish, 176 E. Illinois Road, Lake Forest, beginning Sunday, June 21, at 11 p.m.

A doctor, a married couple and a priest, all specially trained in premarital instruction, combine their talents to lecture, lead discussions and answer questions about the problems, joys and beauty of married life.

Although the sessions are sponsored by the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago, any couple seriously contemplating marriage is welcome to attend. The Sunday session ends at 6 p.m. The Monday, Wednesday and Friday conferences start at 8 p.m. and end around 10.

Refreshments are served during the Sunday program and a donation of ten dollars is requested to cover expenses. Reservations should be made by calling MOhawk 4-6373. Last year some 9,000 agreed what the Wisconsin Dells would do with a unique attraction of this kind! But Illinois has always been the land of the fast buck, and even now, no steps are taken to halt the deterioration of these rarities.

The Antioch Rescue Squad could certainly be an excellent point in any advertising campaign. Any traveler or vacationer would find the assurance of quick emergency aid in sickness or accident a comforting reassurance.

Antioch has much to offer to vacationers — and could have much more with a little effort and cooperation.

Way back, a year or two ago one of Antioch's merchants suggested a cooperative advertising campaign for Antioch—not individual ads, proclaiming bargain prices on goods; but ads proclaiming the attractions of Antioch as a town; as a town to visit, to shop in, to live in, to start a business in.

It seemed like a good idea. It still seems like a good idea. Obviously, a lot of other people think this sort of thing is the very best kind of advertising. Witness the developing Bureau of Tourism, a state project for doing exactly the same type of thing, state-wide, for any community that cares to participate.

Antioch's had plenty of advertising of the kind it doesn't want—via Mike Royko's columns in the Daily News, editorials in other Chicago papers and commentary by newscasters that picture Antioch as a lawless place where an innocent visitor might find himself involved in all sorts of frightening situations.

Hardly the sort of advertising that draws the type of visitor who will fill Antioch shops. Not the kind of advertising that draws vacationing families to Antioch.

Any town that really grows, and particularly any that is looking for tourist trade nowadays, will certainly have to conduct a far-flung and intensive advertising campaign, either through its Chamber of Commerce or through individual efforts.

Other vacation spots around the nation do a thorough job of letting the prospective customer know what they have to offer.

The area around Antioch is essentially beautiful, and many of its major attractions sadly neglected. The famed Lotus beds, which could be a nation-wide attraction, are dwindling to extinction. Im-

Pre-Marriage

Course Starts Soon

Engaged couples of the area are invited to attend a marriage preparation course of four sessions to be held at St. Mary's Parish, 176 E. Illinois Road, Lake Forest, beginning Sunday, June 21, at 11 p.m.

A doctor, a married couple and a priest, all specially trained in premarital instruction, combine their talents to lecture, lead discussions and answer questions about the problems, joys and beauty of married life.

Although the sessions are sponsored by the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago, any couple seriously contemplating marriage is welcome to attend. The Sunday session ends at 6 p.m. The Monday, Wednesday and Friday conferences start at 8 p.m. and end around 10.

Refreshments are served during the Sunday program and a donation of ten dollars is requested to cover expenses. Reservations should be made by calling MOhawk 4-6373. Last year some 9,000 agreed what the Wisconsin Dells would do with a unique attraction of this kind! But Illinois has always been the land of the fast buck, and even now, no steps are taken to halt the deterioration of these rarities.

The Antioch Rescue Squad could certainly be an excellent point in any advertising campaign. Any traveler or vacationer would find the assurance of quick emergency aid in sickness or accident a comforting reassurance.

Antioch has much to offer to vacationers — and could have much more with a little effort and cooperation.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

It will be interesting to see what, if any, opposition develops towards the proposed county building annex in Libertyville when the county board gets around to approving the construction.

The Association of Collective taxpayers and others who have been fighting construction of the new courthouse on the present county building site in Waukegan could justifiably protest the plan, since the building apparently will be constructed without resorting to a referendum.

The county board, having learned from experience, it is to be hoped, will probably proceed with the annex building or auxiliary building without going to the people for approval.

It is safer to avoid a referendum if possible, because the present mood of the people is to shun any additional services that smack even slightly of increased taxes.

This is one of the major decisions facing all governing bodies: to have or not to have a referendum when planning capital expenditures.

When a major project involves financing through a bond issue the officials are faced with the fiscal fact that general obligation bonds generally carry a lower interest rate than revenue bonds.

As a rule, however, general obligation bonds cannot be issued without approval through a referendum whereas the revenue bonds can be issued by city council or county board action.

In 1958 the county board asked approval for a bond issue to build a new courthouse and when the voters turned thumbs down the supervisors looked about for another means of building the much-needed facility.

This apparent flouting of the "will of the people" has been one of the main points of attack on the proposed county building.

Now the supervisors are faced with the same dilemma: Should we build the auxiliary building with higher interest revenue bonds, try to build from current income which could jeopardize the sale of bonds for the main courthouse, or risk defeat at the polls by having a referendum?

The board could turn to the county building commission for the project, but this might arouse new opposition.

The Lake County Liquor Control Commission is toying with a new ordinance that would require the licensing of all bartenders.

The license would have nothing to do with the bartender's ability to make a martini, draw a glass of beer with a normal collar or determine the age of a customer at a quick glance, but would insure that there are no criminals or fugitives in the ranks of the mixologists.

The ordinance provides that the bartender must be finger printed and mugged and his record cleared by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Violation of a host of laws could result in suspension or revocation of the license which in turn would deprive the bartender of his way of making a living.

Since bartenders, like tavern owners and others in the business, are virtually second class citizens, anyhow, considerable support can probably be rounded up for this latest invasion of privacy and example of police state philosophy.

But what happens when someone suggests clearing teachers, ministers, salesmen clothing store clerks, or druggists with the FBI?

It might even reach a point where newspapermen or public office holders were subjected to the impersonal scrutiny of the FBI punch cards.

It seems from this corner that any dubious benefits to be gained by this discriminatory legislation would be more than offset by the new crack in the armor of everyday freedoms.

Charles E. Mason, Lake County's leading Lincoln scholar and a former State's Attorney, celebrated his 75th birthday this month and used the occasion to bemoan the future of Honest Abe's Republican Party.

The Squire of Gurnee sees grim days ahead for the GOP if Pennsylvania's William Scranton succeeds in wresting the presidential nomination from Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Since Gov. Scranton's announcement that he would seek the nomination we have been waiting for "Bandwagon Bill" Rentschler to announce that he is heading the Scranton campaign in Illinois.

Too often speed and driver fatigue go hand-in-hand. As the driver grows weary, frequently he becomes increasingly impatient to reach his destination. He is tempted to increase his speed at the time his alertness is dwindling. Don't make this mistake when you become tired behind the wheel. Stop and rest, but remember to pull completely off the highway when you do come to a stop.

NCHA Camp-Out Draws Over 1,000

More than a thousand devotees of camping-out gathered at Chuck Burrill's Timber Lake Park, east of Antioch, last week-end for a meeting of the Illinois chapter of the NOHA (National Camping & Hikers Association). There were 341 units and 1381 people in the group. One, Guy Colby, a WLS entertainer for 11 years, came from St. Petersburg, Fla., for the meeting.

The trailer travelers and campers hold chapter and national meetings in various places in the nation. Last year's meeting of the northern Illinois-southern Wisconsin group was held at Timber Lake Park also.

The oldest married couple present were Bill and Jean

Morrison of Des Plaines, who will soon celebrate their 50th anniversary. The oldest member present was Jesse Baker, 81, of the Koryn Kampers chapter from Bloomington. Guy and Gertrude Colby drove the longest distance to attend the meeting—1365 miles, from St. Petersburg, Fla. The youngest member present was Tina Thompson, three months old, of Waterman, Ill.

The Illinois Teen Queen of the NCHA was elected at the meeting of the club last week-end—Janice Dorothy of the Illinois Bushmasters chapter of Glasford, Ill. Runners up were Jennifer Corbin, of the Plaza Ramblers of Wood River, and Rose Mollen, Starved Rock Ramblers of Peoria. The Teen Queen will participate, with other State Queens, at the National Convention at Tamson Park at Akron, Ohio, on July 13-16. More than 2,500 units and 10,000 people are expected at this National Camp-out.

Officers of the Illinois chapter were installed at the week-end meeting, also. They were Don Thompson, president, from Nam-Te-Taw chapter of Waterman; Everett Davis, vice president, of Pichum and Pullum chapter, Peoria; Bill Morrison, secretary, (third term), from Des Plaines Valley chapter, and Vern Messer, treasurer, West Cook chapter, LaGrange.

Set New Free-Fall Record

1st Lt. R. A. Mathews, Jr., a former Antioch resident, was one of nine Marine parachutists from sport parachuting clubs at Cherry Point, Camp Lejeune, and Quantico, who claimed a new world's record for seven, eight and nine-man team jumps at night, after free-falling from 44,000 to 1800 feet before deploying their parachutes.

The record jump was made at the St. Mere Eglise drop zone at Fort Bragg, N. C., on June 6.

The jump has yet to be confirmed by officials of the Parachute Club of America and Federation Aeronautique Internationale before being entered as the new world night jump record.

The team first made an effort to break the day free-fall record for a seven-man team, but failed. Due to the limited number of barographs (instruments utilized to monitor record attempts) available, the Marines decided to pass up further day attempts in favor of all-out assault on the night free-fall record, established by the Russians in 1961.

The final record jump was scheduled for 1:45 a.m. June 6 by nine jumpers. During the plane's final approach, the pilot turned on his landing lights to aid the ground crew in locating his position.

At 1:45 a.m. the parachutists stepped out into the 65 degrees below zero sky. Lt. Mathews, the team captain, fired night flares, beginning at 20,000 feet, to mark their position during the free-fall. At 5,000 feet the other eight jumpers also fired flares. On the drop zone, the ground crew marked the target area by igniting flares to guide the jumpers.

In addition to Lt. Mathews, the new world record claimants are S. Sgt. Ralph J. Larsen, Sgt. Robert A. Armstrong, Jr., Cpl. Andre B. Smith, Cpl. Edward A. Mikellitis, Cpl. Robert J. Reinhardt, Cpl. Dennis N. McCarthy, Cpl. Thomas A. Dougher, and Lt. Cpl. Roy J. Bertalovits. Lt. Mathews is 26 years old, a graduate of Antioch High School.

Daydreaming Motorists
The day dreaming motorist is a danger not only to himself but to other drivers on the streets and highways, says the Chicago Motor Club. If you find yourself daydreaming behind the wheel, you'll find it a lot safer to pull off the road until you regain your alertness. An essential part of safe driving is the ability to keep your mind on the task at hand—operating an automobile.

WATCH THOSE CURVES
The Chicago Motor Club cautions drivers always to reduce their speed when approaching a curve. Once on to a curve safely, speed gradually can be resumed. Strict observance of curve warning signals would eliminate many serious traffic accidents.

ABILITY TO LAUGH

SPEAKING TO YOU

By John Burland

Director of Social Studies, Rockford East High School

A woman from California enclosed a copy of an earlier column of mine on Viet Nam with a direct question: "We are not winning the war. Why not?" Since I am sure that this same question is being widely asked, I am going to devote another column to the question at the risk of repetition.

Why aren't we winning? The old Yankee trick is to answer a question by asking one. By winning do you mean the unconditional surrender of the Communists?

In South Viet Nam? In North Viet Nam? In China? This is not a prize fight with the Marquis of Queensbury rules. There are no rounds; there is no referee.

The people who demand that we win are frequently the ones who decry the American casualties in Viet Nam. These total casualties amount to about 300 men in the entire war. To win the kind of a victory that they are talking about, will require American armies on a large scale, casualties on a large scale, casualties on a large scale. If your solution for winning the war involves thousands upon thousands of casualties, then stop whining about the present losses of from ten to twenty a month. You are not concerned with casualties.

So we land 500,000 men in Viet Nam. So we march into the privileged sanctuaries in Laos and capture Hanoi. (It's going to require large occupational armies in each captured area as we move forward.) Do we march into China next? To Kummung? To Canton? To Hankow? To Peiping? How far do we march? How long do we stay?

Is that what you mean by winning? Have you considered the cost in money and blood? Or do you take the short cut and rip China apart with nuclear weapons? The only people urging either action are the frustrated, and frustration is a foundation of sand.

There are other solutions. Charles DeGaulle and certain American senators say that the only sensible course is to withdraw. DeGaulle says that Southeast Asia is in the Chinese sphere of influence, and nothing we can do will change it. I am no more impressed by this DeGaulle statement than I am by his policy in Europe and South America. Frankly, I think that he pushes French fortunes at the expense of the U. S. all over the globe.

He might just possibly be right for the long pull, but we are living in a present that has a considerable influence on the future.

Were we to withdraw now, American influence in Asia would sink to zero. The effect of such action would not be confined to Viet Nam and Cambodia, and Thailand; the collapse of American prestige would affect immediately India and Japan and the Philippines. We would give Red China a magnificent victory at no expense. We cannot withdraw.

That leaves us with a policy similar to the one we are now following. It is a mixture of power and bluff; it is part threat but that threat has the teeth of a tiger. It is our hope that we can build a unified South Viet Nam capable of defending herself, and that by a mixture of displayed force and diplomacy, we gain the necessary time.

As I write this, our top leaders, military and diplomatic are meeting in Honolulu. They are grappling with a problem inherited from Kennedy and Eisenhower. None of them has found an easy solution. Still and all, I would rather take the decisions of these men than the wild hawker of ideas who has answers but few facts. I am willing to take the judgments of our leaders in Honolulu until I hear better solutions. Bombing jungle trails with atomic bombs leaves me cold.

I have little faith in the all or nothing boys. I have scant respect for the man who wants someone else to fight his way into Peiping; I have no respect for the man who would wash his hands and walk out.

There is a cartoon dating back to World War I of a couple of Tommies in a shell hole, knee deep in water, covered with mud, shells screaming over head. Crouching miserably in the damp, one of them says, "This is an 'all or none' job."

"Well," says the other, "if you know of a better hole, go to it."

I think we are in a 'hole' in South Viet Nam, but at the moment I think that a charge forward is suicide, and a retreat is death from behind. It sometimes takes as much guts to stick as it does to run either forward or backward.

DAY CAMP AT CHAIN O' LAKES STATE PARK

Approximately 140 Girl Scouts plus nine senior Scouts have been spending the past week at the Scouts' Day Camp in the Chain O' Lakes State Park.

Camp started on Monday and goes through Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. for two weeks.

During this time the girls not only learn to cooperate with each other and have fun but they are also working on their badges.

Mrs. Henry Henry is the Day Camp director and her two able assistants are Mrs. Bennie Muffet and Mrs. Richard Noxon.

Mrs. Edward Carraher is the first aid director and Mrs. Rose Minarik the registrar. Mrs. Richard Burnett is the buyer of the food.

The Day Camp this year chose as their theme Pirates. The Spanish Main is the name they gave their camp.

The complete group is divided into seven units and each unit took the name of a pirate ship and have their own pirate flag. Each girl in every unit is making a ship's log in place of a diary.

The leaders of these seven units are as follows:

Mrs. Gilbert Martinez, unit one; Mrs. John Bierman and Mrs. Joyce Haggett, unit two; Mrs. Verne Woodward, unit three; Mrs. Rose Minarik and Mrs. James Bodam, unit four; Mrs. Bernard Dost, unit five; Mrs. Lester Surrock, unit six; and Mrs. Merle Gibson, the senior unit.

The first week of camp the girls had a fire and tornado drill; archery was introduced; first aid instruction given; games played and instructions on fire making and the use of their knives were given along with many other things to keep all the girls very busy and interested.

A small fry unit was set up to take care of the little tots whose mothers are working there.

Here are some of the things scheduled for the last week of camp.

Monday—the Cadettes and Senior Scouts had an Archaeology dig at the R and S.

Ranch on Rt. 173, west of the Fox River bridge.

Tuesday the Cadettes took a five mile pack hike and cookout in the State Park.

Wednesday the two Junior troops had a survival hunt. Thursday a treasure hunt was made up by the Senior Scouts and open house was held.

Fun and hard work went together for Troop 187 on their campout last Thursday and Friday.

Sixteen girls and their leaders, Mrs. Betty Wilson, Mrs. Alma Bailey, Mrs. Betty Stelaski, camped back of Mrs. Wilson's home.

The girls fished and cooked out, with fish on the menu Friday night. Camp broke up after breakfast Saturday morning. Mrs. Alice Johnson instructed the younger girls in the proper way to take a tent down.

Yankees Upsel Dodgers, 13-5

The Yankees broke a three game losing streak by upsetting the Dodgers Tuesday evening, 13-5. Mark Larson and Glen Brooks homered for the losers.

The Cubs returned to their winning ways by downing the Tigers 10-1, behind Ricky Nelson.

The following evening the Dodgers broke the Giants' four game winning streak by defeating the defending champs 10-9, aided by Ted DeBoer's three run homer in the first inning. Mark Larson took off his catching equipment to take over the mound for the last three innings to get the victory for the Dodgers.

On Friday night the Cubs went back into first place in the Gray Division by edging the Sox 5-4.

In a practice game Sunday, the Antioch All-Stars handily defeated Fox Lake 7 to 1 with Ricky Nelson on the mound.

"If you're ready for the better things in life, you're ready for electric heat"

(and the rates are down 50% since 1958!)

That's Bob Appel talking. His RCA Associates, Inc., have built more than 600 homes in the North Aurora area.

Like an ever-growing number of his friends in the building trades, Bob Appel believes that electric heat is today's great home improvement.

And, if you are ready for the better things in life, no other heating system at any price comes close to giving you all the benefits of electric heat.

It's clean, safe, the most comfortable heat by a wide margin. Separate thermostats let you control the heat in every room. And because electric heat burns no fuel, there's nothing to create dirt, dust, and fumes. Walls, ceilings, curtains, and furniture stay clean longer. And there's little or no maintenance.

Besides—what else can you think of that costs 50% less today than it did in 1958?

LEGION AUXILIARY
By Del Jahneke

Mrs. John L. Horan, Sr., Elected President
Election of officers was held at the June 12th meeting of the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary Unit. Mrs. John L. Horan, Sr., was elected President; Mrs. Walter Hills, First Vice-president; Mrs. Earl Horton, 2nd Vice-president; Treasurer, Mrs. Lester Zitkus; Historian, Mrs. Edward Jahneke; and Sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Ralph Fields. Election of delegates to the Department Convention then took place with Mrs. Lucy Hlimes and Mrs. John L. Horan, Sr., as delegates; and Mrs. Burt Anderson and Mrs. Warren Edwards as alternates.

The Americanism essay contest winners were present with their mothers, and Diane Polsgrove read her winning essay. Cash awards from the Unit were given by Mrs. Clarence Larson, Americanism Chairman, to Diane Polsgrove, Diane Crandall, and Kay Kuchenmeyer.

Mr. John L. Horan, Sr., chairman of the American Legion and Auxiliary Carnival from June 30 to July 5, asked for Auxiliary volunteers to act as cashiers for the nine "rides." Any Auxiliary member who wishes to serve in that capacity, please contact Mr. Horan.

Six new members were initiated into the Antioch Unit. They were Mrs. Alex Hoffman, Mrs. Arthur Soby, Mrs. Herman Rehberg, Mrs. Vincent Block of Glenview, and her two daughters, Junior Auxiliary members, Susan and Madeline. The initiation was conducted by Mrs. John L. Horan, Sr., Mrs. Walter Hills, Mrs. Joseph Horton, Mrs. Lester Zitkus, Mrs. F. A. Swenson, and Mrs. Lucy Hlimes, President.

It's just as important to practice safety when you walk as it is when you drive, says the Chicago Motor Club. Pedestrian safety requires as much alertness as does driver safety.
